HONORING BLAKE KINNETT

HON. JOHN SHIMKUS

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, December 17, 2018

Mr. SHIMKUS. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Blake James Dale Kinnett of Alvin, Illinois. Blake is the son of John and Becky and brother to Kaitlyn and Garett. He is passionate about sports, especially baseball and basketball. By the age of 12, Blake was a two-time baseball state champion, and even played in a national tournament in Cooperstown, New York with the Illiana Chiefs.

Blake also enjoyed playing basketball in Alvin, where a court has been renamed in his honor. When Blake wasn't playing sports, he enjoyed spending time with his friends and family as well as fishing and turkey hunting.

In 2017, Blake was diagnosed with Adrenoleukodystrophy (ALD), a disease that destroys the protective myelin sheath surrounding the brain's neurons. ALD affects 1 in 18,000 people, and to date there is no known cure.

After Blake's diagnosis, his community rallied around him and his family to sponsor fundraisers and help spread awareness about ALD. Blake, his family, and his community's efforts to spread awareness of this disease helped affect change in Illinois state law and led to the designation of December 1st as "Blake Kinnett Day".

Mr. Speaker, I wish to commend Blake for his resilience in facing his ALD diagnosis. Blake is an inspiration to everyone who hears his story. May God bless him and his family.

CELEBRATING NEW YORK FARMERS AND THEIR CONTRIBUTIONS TO "HARVEST FOR ALL"

HON. JOHN KATKO

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, December 17, 2018

Mr. KATKO. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize the farmers in my district, alongside the New York Farm Bureau, for their participation in the "Harvest For All" program. "Harvest For All" is a nationwide program that seeks to distribute food to needy families and individuals. Run by farm bureaus and food banks across the country, the program has been assisting underserved communities for nearly two decades.

"Harvest For All" was started in 2002 by members of the Farm Bureau's Young Farmers & Ranchers program but now includes volunteers of all ages. The program operates year round and has donated nearly 223 million pounds of food, as well as amassed over 121,000 volunteer hours since it began. Between monetary and food contributions, "Harvest For All" donates an amount equivalent to 31 million meals.

In New York State, "Harvest For All" has a strong presence and reaches many New Yorkers in need. In 2016, the New York Farm Bureau donated 13.2 million pounds of food, the second largest total among state Farm Bureaus. They have donated 11 million pounds of food so far in 2018, an amount that translates to 9,000,000 meals for underprivileged New Yorkers. In addition to food donations, the New York Farm Bureau is teaching New Yorkers the culinary knowledge necessary to prepare healthier foods.

Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues in the House to join me in recognizing the local farmers, New York Farm Bureau, and Farm Bureaus around the country, for their participation in "Harvest For All." During this time of year in particular, it is incredibly important we count our blessings and help those who are less fortunate. "Harvest For All" is a program that embodies this standard as farmers nationwide strive to improve the quality of life for millions in our great country. I thank the Central New York farmers who contribute to this program year after year and recognize their role in building a better New York.

TRIBUTE IN HONOR OF JAMES LEWIS

HON. HAROLD ROGERS

OF KENTUCKY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, December 17, 2018

Mr. ROGERS of Kentucky. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to pay tribute to one of Eastern

Kentucky's longest serving county clerks, Mr. James Lewis who was sworn into office as the Leslie County Clerk in January 1986. He is retiring after dedicating 33 years of public service to the people of Leslie County, including his oversight of nearly 60 elections.

James has garnered the utmost respect of his peers and leaders across the Commonwealth of Kentucky for his astute knowledge, experience, and steadfast integrity in election operations. He has instructed election training for county clerks in Kentucky for more than 20 years, served as President of the Kentucky County Clerk's Association from 1999 to 2000, and has been Chairman of the Kentucky County Clerk's Association Election Committee from 1994 until his retirement this year. James has served as a guardian for common-sense election reform since 1986 and a staunch advocate for programs and policies that best serve Kentuckians.

During his tenure as county clerk, James has sought out opportunities to offer compassion and additional support to those most in need. In fact, he co-founded the Help A Veteran Everyday (HAVE) Program to provide funding for Veterans programs across the state. The HAVE program repurposes license plates for bird houses that can be purchased at participating County Clerk's offices, offering 100 percent of proceeds to the Hope for Veterans charity.

Aside from going above and beyond the call of duty in his role as Leslie County Clerk, James has been a loyal friend of the Republican Party who proudly works to uphold the conservative principles that he holds dear. James has participated in every election since turning 18 years old, has dedicated his career to administering six dozen elections, and been a valiant pioneer for election reform. He has served as a tireless member of the Republican Parties of Leslie County and Kentucky for many years and was inducted into the Kentucky Fifth District Lincoln Club Hall of Fame in 2010.

James' leadership has been highly respected, reliable and resourceful for one of Kentucky's most rural and impoverished counties. He is a beloved friend to the people of Leslie County who has made a lasting impact through his devoted kindness and fortitude for a brighter future. I wish James and his wife, Betty, a retirement filled with joy and peace with their daughters, Danika and Wendy, and their grandchildren, Kelsey and R.J. May their gardening and fishing days together be fruitful.
